

The Women's Studies Program
presents

From Human Rights to Humus: One Woman's Efforts to Transform Waste into Resources in Haiti

Dr. Sasha Kramer

Co-Founder and Executive Director
Sustainable Organic Integrated Livelihoods (SOIL)

Dr. Kramer will present an overview of current conditions in Haiti and SOIL's work. She will discuss the role of women in promoting environmental justice. Dr. Kramer will also talk about the role of academia in creating social and environmental change.

Thursday, March 21st | 7:00 pm | Golden Eagle Suite

